Our Mission: Provide our members opportunities for career development and networking with peers. Advance and promote the profession by creating awareness of the skills and abilities of IT audit and security Professionals.

President's Message

President's Message

Hello Utah ISACA members. We will be having our regular monthly luncheon at the Lion House on Thursday, January 17th. Joel Fontenot, Senior Systems Engineer with Ecora Software, will be speaking on the topic of Compliance. We hope to see you all there to start out the New Year. Just go to our Web site at <http://www.isaca-ut.org/utahevents.html> and sign up.

The ISACA-Utah Chapter will be sponsoring the upcoming IT Summit conference, which allows our members to attend this conference at no charge. Information for the IT summit is on page 2 of this newsletter.

As we enter the New Year, I wish everyone the best!

Mark Murdock

ISACA e-Symposium

*****

If you are in need of CPE credits, an easy way to earn them is by participating in an ISACA e-Symposium. These are free online web casts and you can earn 3 CPE credits. For further details, go to: www.isaca.org/webcasts

Another way to earn CPE credits is by taking the Information Systems Control Journal CPE Quizzes that are online at: http://www.isaca.org/Template.cfm?Section=CISA\_Certification&CONTENTID=16839&TEMPLATE=/TaggedPage/TaggedPageDisplay.cfm&TPLID=58

Each quiz passed with at least 75% earns 1 CPE credit. There is no cost, which is hard to beat!

IT SUMMIT

For those interested, here is the information I received on the IT Summit:

“The IT Summit is the executive technology conference series coming to the Salt Palace on April 16th, 2008. The purpose of the conference series is to support the proliferation of information technology. Each conference features a full day of presentations, networking, and exhibits. We support certain non-profit IT organizations at no cost.

We propose to provide ISACA with complimentary admission for your members, promotion on the conference website, print work, marketing materials, and conference guide in exchange for promoting the event to your people. We hope you use The IT Summit as a membership drive vehicle.

Below, please see details from our annual Denver conference which took place on May 30th. I have included Denver details as an example because each of our programs is very similar. We welcomed 400 attendees in Denver.
